

To whom this may concern:

Being an individual who is hard of hearing, I find that Closed Captioning (cc) is of benefit to me while relaxing with television programming. However, I will say that of the shows that I can enjoy both the dialouge and the cc text, I find that the cc text is not the same as what is being said by the on screen individuals.